OPERATION DEEP DIVE

CALL FOR INTERVIEWS

ABOUT OPERATION DEEP DIVE:

Operation Deep Dive is a community-based, military veteran, suicide prevention study taking place in 14 states across the country. This four-year study is a partnership between America's Warrior Partnership and researchers from the University of Alabama that is funded by a grant from the Bristol-Myers Squibb Foundation.

The goal of Operation Deep Dive is to identify community factors that can develop an upstream approach to enhancing programs that improve veterans' quality of life and reduce risk factors associated with veteran suicide and non-natural deaths.

HOW YOUR AUDIENCE CAN HELP:

By participating in Operation Deep Dive interviews! These interviews can be conducted over the phone.

- Interviews investigate the lives of veterans lost to suicide or a non-natural cause of death (overdose, asphyxiation, accidental gunshot, drowning, suicide by law enforcement, or high-speed, single-driver accident) within the last 24 months.
- The interview will examine how the deceased veteran was engaged within the community and how the community can better support veterans in the future.

Insight shared will contribute greatly to the formation of a proactive approach to preserving the life of service members and veterans!

HOW YOU CAN HELP - POST ON SOCIAL:

We invite you to share the Operation Deep Dive video, featuring Clint Bruce, with your social network to encourage those touched by veteran suicide or non-natural death to participate in the research study interviews.

The below posts will facilitate the correct links, simply copy and paste.
